Greensward College is the site of two polling stations, one for Hockley Central ward and one for Hockley North ward. This particular polling station in the Gymnasium is not suitable for disabled access. There is no other suitable site within the polling district and, after consultation with the College, the Council has made the decision to have suitable ramping installed. This involves major work, which will be completed during summer 2007 and, therefore, no change to the existing arrangements is proposed.
